8,000-Pullet Flock Illustrates Rise of Egg Industry

—Hope Star Photos
THE RISE OF SOUTHWEST ARKANSAS AS A MAJOR egg-producing area is illustrated by top photograph made yesterday morning on the farm of Watson Ward and his son Dale of Prescott Route Three, five miles north of Prescott on State Highway 24.

THERE ARE 8,000 Hy-Line pullets in the picture — one of two equal-size free-range flocks. In addition the Wards have 16,000 in feeding houses, making a total operation of 24,000 chickens. Their capacity is 16,000 on range and 32,000 in feeding houses, a total of 48,000.

SOUTHLAND FARMS, INC., SUPPLIES THE CHICKS and feed, picks up the pullets at age 18 weeks, pays the Wards their contract fee, and distributes the adult hens to egg-production farmers. The Wards have 320 acres and also operate a dairy with 120 Holstein cows.

Troops Will Remain, Europe Told

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will publicly announce in West Germany later this week that the United States has no intention of withdrawing any of its 250,000 troops now in Europe.

The imminent Rusk statement, disclosed Tuesday night by a high-ranking U.S. official, is designed to dispel German concern that the current airlift of 14,500 American fighting men from Texas foreshadows some future troop withdrawal.

German suspicions were aroused by a speech Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric made last Saturday in Chicago. The Big Lift exercise, he said, may enable the United States "to make some shifts in the form of our military presence" overseas. As a result, Gilpatric said, the United States "should be able to make useful

Honest Youth Is Rewarded

ADRIAN, Tex. (AP)—Clayton Thompson, 16, who quit school and went to work as a ranch hand to help his mother pay medical bills, found $5,800 Tuesday.

Thompson, who said "it never entered my mind to keep it," turned the money in to officers at the San Jon, N.M., port of entry.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hughes, moving from Hot Springs, Ark., to Hayward, Calif., discovered the purse missing and claimed it.

They left a $20 reward for Clayton.

Surplus Food to Viet Nam to Be Cut

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to cut down on surplus food shipments to South Viet Nam.

The new economic pressure is part of a hardened policy, the object of which is persuading Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem to reverse what high State Department officials feel is a trend toward totalitarian government.

Official Washington is equally concerned that Diem got on with the job of defeating the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas. The first evidence of the new policy was announcement Monday that further financial support to the special force troops controlled by Diem's influential brother Ngo Dinh Nhu will be withheld until the soldiers are assigned to war duty. Some of these crack paratroopers led raids this summer against Buddhist pagodas.

Korean Ferry Accident Claims 49

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A river ferry carrying school children home from a picnic capsized near Seoul today. Police said 37 children and 12 adults drowned. Rescuers plucked 88 others from the water.

The wooden ferry was carrying 137 passengers, mostly fifth and sixth graders from Anyang, 15 miles south of Seoul. It capsized near Hoju, 35 miles southwest of here.

Police said the boat overturned about 10 yards off shore when the children swarmed over to one side to get off.

The victims included the principal of the school, police said. Teachers and parents of the children also were on board the ferry.

Civil Rights Bill Showdown Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scheduled meeting of the House Judiciary Committee was postponed today, delaying a showdown over terms of a civil rights bill.

The meeting was reset for Thursday. A committee aide said today's session was canceled "by direction of the chairman," Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. He was not immediately available for comment.

The committee was to have voted today on a sweeping 10-part civil rights measure aimed at nearly every form of racial discrimination. Bipartisan supporters of the bill contended they had the votes to win approval.

Committee leaders were supporting an administration move to tone down the measure in an effort to improve its chances of House and Senate passage.

Negro Pupils at Chicago Stage Boycott

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly half of Chicago's approximately 470,000 public school pupils were absent from classes Tuesday, most of them staying away in what Negro civil rights leaders claimed was the nation's largest school boycott.

The massive civil rights boycott was in protest against what leaders called the "growing school segregation in Chicago" and against the policies of Benjamin C. Willis, superintendent of public schools.

They claim that Willis, one of the nation's highest-paid public officials and in his 10th year as superintendent, is responsible for what they term de facto segregation in the public schools.

The boycott, with heaviest absenteeism reported in schools in predominantly Negro neighborhoods, was climaxed late Tuesday by a demonstration by an estimated 8,000 to 10,000 persons

Grain Deals May Send Corn to Hungary

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet wheat buyers confer today with administration officials as reports circulate that the United States is ready to approve sale of 40,000 tons of corn to Hungary.

If the corn sale rumors are true, the deal would be the first to be closed with an Iron Curtain country since President Kennedy approved sale of subsidized farm products—particularly wheat—to the Soviet bloc two weeks ago.

The wheat sales, the chief item in Soviet-American bargaining, have been held up by haggling over the costs of shipping the grain on American vessels.

Trade and government circles speculated that both the United States and the Soviet bloc got out on a limb by stipulating that the wheat should be shipped on U.S. ships when they were available.

The President laid down the requirement when he approved the sales, and it appeared to be

State Government Coming to County

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday that he will move the seat of state government to Washington in Hempstead County on Nov. 6 — just as was done in 1863 when federal troops captured Arkansas Post.

In September of that year, Gov. Harris Flanagin ordered the seat of state government moved to Washington. Faubus said he will conduct some official state business while at Washington.

Probe of U.S. Ship Strafing Is Underway

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has launched an investigation of the strafing of an American-owned ship off the coast of Cuba early Tuesday morning.

There is no doubt the strafing was carried out by Cuban planes. Although it did not identify the ship, Havana radio said its air force attacked a vessel in the area.

The big question is why. Havana claimed the ship was carrying saboteurs and arms. However, it was learned elsewhere that the vessel, the bulk carrier J. Louis, was steaming from Ocho Rios, Jamaica, to Corpus Christi, Tex., with 31,500 tons of bauxite ore, the raw material for aluminum.

The answer may be in an account given the New York Times by what the paper referred to as highly placed informants.

According to this version, the J. Louis was attacked when she accidentally sailed into the thick of a fight between Cuban coast defenses and a raiding party of Cuban exiles. Possibly four or five MIGs strafed the vessel because their Cuban pilots "in the heat of action" believed she was involved in an anti-Castro landing operation.

The owners of the vessel reported no casualties during the hour-long attack. Flares were dropped to light up the target. Shells damaged the superstructure and hull and set up a fire in the forecabin of the 33,000-ton vessel.

More may be known when the J. Louis, with its crew of about 50, arrives late tonight at Corpus Christi.

The incident jarred the quiet of Tuesday's first anniversary of last fall's Cuban crisis. The State Department deplored "this unprovoked attack on a vessel navigating the high seas" and said it was investigating to see whether a U.S. protest would be made.

Diminishing Winds Slated to Hit Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Wrong-way hurricane Ginny trudged slowly today toward Florida's heavily populated lower east coast.

Storm forecasters nervously held hurricane warnings in abeyance, arousing a dim hope that the confusing tropical storm might loop-the-loop and miss Florida.

Hurricane hunter aircraft shuttled in and out of the storm, relaying a continuous flow of information to teams of forecasters.

Near midmorning, Ginny, with peak winds of 80 miles per hour near her center, was located about 160 miles east-northeast of Cape Canaveral. The storm was blustering southwestward at 10 m.p.h.

"At least some possibility still exists that it could perform a loop and swing to the south and later on, to the east," said Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster at the Miami Weather Bureau.

"Also, we must stress that this is far from a major hurricane," Dunn said. "It is indeed a minimal hurricane. Even if it comes ashore, tides and winds will, for a hurricane, be minimal."

There will be a Den Mothers workshop at Brookwood school Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. All Den Mothers are urged to attend.

Two students from Hempstead County are among the 8,450 registered at Memphis State University for the fall semester. They are Kenneth N. Miller and Jobeth Rettig Baggett, both of Hope.

Jimmy Barentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barentine of Hope, has been accepted for membership in the Southern State College Concert Choir. He is a 1962 graduate of Hope High School, is a sophomore music education major, holds a band scholarship and is a member of the band and the DaCapo Club, a fine arts organization.

Lester E. Goodwin has been to membership in the American Herford Association, the world's largest purred registry organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Parmer of Hope, Ark. is scheduled to complete eight-week advanced infantry training under the Reserve Forces Act program at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Polk, La. November 29. He completed basic at Fort Polk, is a 1963 graduate of Guernsey High School and was employed by Hope Feed Mill before going on active duty.

J. F. Knox of Fayetteville writes that his brother informs him that a farmer in North Carolina is after the Arkansas record for the largest watermelon. He grew two this year, one 140 pounds the other 146. That's a good way off from the 195 pound record, but this man must have our range, writes Mr. Knox.

Down at Southern State a former Bobcat, Charles (Chuck) Beggs is doing well his freshman year as a Mulerider. He is a regular starting defensive guard.

Star, N. Y. News Get Eastman Nod

EDITOR'S NOTE: THE following news story was given the Associated Press and the Arkansas Democrat this morning for publication simultaneously with Hope Star this afternoon (Wednesday).

HOPE — Front pages of the Hope Star and the New York Daily News will appear together in a photographic slide being prepared for a lecture on dark-room technique by Eastman Kodak Co.

J. Winton Lemen, manager of Eastman's Photo Press Sales Division, Rochester, N.Y., commenting on a recent national survey Eastman conducted on newspaper darkroom procedures, wrote Alex H. Washburn, editor and publisher of the Hope newspaper:

"May I have a copy of one of your editions? I would like to use it in a slide along with the New York Daily News. This slide will be used in a lecture reporting on the photo lab technician survey. Your paper had the smallest circulation of any of those replying and, of course, the Daily News, the largest. You may be interested in knowing that we had an excellent response to this survey, having a return of 33%."

Today's Star, which Washburn said is being forwarded to Rochester for slide reproduction, features a five-column local picture "plugging" the Arkansas poultry industry.

It shows a flock of 8,000 Hy-Line layers being contract-fed for Southland Farms, Inc., on the farm of Watson Ward and his son Dale, Prescott Route Three, five miles north of Prescott on State Highway 24. The Wards are feeding 32,000 pullets. Southland furnishes chicks and feed, picks up the birds at the end of 18 weeks, pays the Wards their contract fee, and then places the chickens with egg-production farmers.

Forest Week Observed by Kiwanians

Four speakers appeared before Hope Kiwanis club yesterday in a salute to National Forest Products Week, October 20-26.

The event here is sponsored by Hope Chamber of Commerce and appearing before the civic club were Haskell Jones, president of the C of C; Bill Gunter, Jack Lowe and Thurston Hulsey.

Each speaker discussed various phases of the wood-working and forest products industries, and pointed to the benefits in Hempstead county and also the state of Arkansas.

It was pointed out that 61.0 of all land in Hempstead county is now in forest and woodland, which furnishes much of the raw materials to nine wood-working industries located in Hope.

Mr. Gunter pointed out that sale to timber plus salaries to about 500 employees of the nine wood-working industries in Hempstead county would amount to around four million dollars annually.

Mr. Lowe declared that lumber was here to stay, and stressed the beauty, strength, durability and versatility of the finished product.

Mr. Hulsey, superintendent of Washington schools and a timber grower, stressed the better methods of growing pine timber which would yield $15 per acre, but point out there were 110 species of timber that could be found in Arkansas forests.

Mr. Jones stressed the importance of the lumber and timber industry to the economy of Hope and Arkansas, and announced a bus tour of the industries in this city.

The program was arranged by Ben Owen.

Later it was learned the State Department had not agreed with that part of Gilpatrick's speech but that its objections were overruled by the White House. State Department officials insisted there is no immediate plan for troop reductions.

Rusk's expected statement will be a reply to a German request for clarification of Gilpatrick's remarks.

The announced purpose of Rusk's trip is to attend a meeting of American ambassadors stationed in Europe and to be on hand Sunday in Frankfurt for the dedication of a memorial fountain to George C. Marshall, the late secretary of state who chaired the Marshall Plan for postwar European recovery.

Beebe Plant Cited in U. S. Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The International Ladies Garment Workers Union Local 596 filed suit in U.S. District Court Tuesday, alleging that Beebe Industries, Inc., of Beebe, failed to bargain after entering into a contract with the union.

The court was asked to order the firm, which manufactures wearing apparel, to abide by the contract which it said was signed Dec. 29, 1962, to extend through Dec. 31, 1965.

mal." Forecasters said it was impossible to predict Ginny's course more than 12 hours ahead.

Gale warnings were displayed from Jacksonville to Palm Beach this morning.

Tides from one to three feet above normal were expected along much of the coast from Florida to the Middle Atlantic States.

Forecasters said tides five feet higher than normal were possible along the middle east coast of Florida tonight.

After dawdling for three days off the Eastern Seaboard as far north as Cape Hatteras, Ginny started on a beeline Tuesday aimed at the lower Florida Coast.

The Red Cross deployed 85 of its disaster workers in cities from Jacksonville to Miami.

Florida residents, many of them with thumbs still sore from boarding up during the hurricane Flora threat, were caught by surprise. Hurricanes generally form far to the south and move to the north or north-east.

Small craft from New Jersey to the upper Florida Keys were warned to stay in port.

There was some erosion along the North Carolina coast but Ginny brought needed rain to the parched eastern half of the state.

As the storm moved southward, it became more tropical and the Weather Bureau warned residents of the Florida east coast from Daytona Beach southward to keep in close touch with advisories.

Winds were expected to increase in the Abacos and around Grand Bahama in the Bahamas Islands and interests in that area were told to be ready to take quick precautions if necessary.

The Coast Guard reported that the powerless Navy destroyer escort Fogg, adrift since Saturday, was taken in tow by the cutter Chilulu off the North Carolina coast. The cutter Casco was escorting the Chilulu and the Fogg.

The Fogg, with 10 men aboard was being towed from Norfolk to Mayport, Fla., to join the reserve fleet.

accepted by the Communist countries.

Since then they have objected, citing higher costs of American shipping—about 20 to 30 cents a bushel higher than foreign shipping.

This matter figures to be part of the table talk when the Soviet trade negotiators lunch with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

The Russian group is headed by Sergei A. Borisov, first deputy minister of foreign trade, who negotiated the Soviet purchase of Canadian wheat in September.

The shipping requirement, however, does not hinder sales of corn and other grains. Last Friday the Commerce Department exempted grains other than wheat from the requirement.

The Washington Post today quoted a grain firm as saying in New York that it expected the Commerce Department to take prompt action today on an export license to make the first shipment to Hungary. The commitment is expected to eventually total 100,000 tons of corn, the firm said.

Government and commercial sources appeared confident that the freight cost situation would not be allowed to interfere with wheat sales to the Reds. This was expressed at a news conference Tuesday by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and in private by Agriculture Department officials.

who marched around the City Hall-County Building and at the downtown offices of the Board of Education.

The marchers, both white and Negro, chanted, sang and displayed signs. There were no incidents. Rush hour traffic in the Loop was jammed.

Willis earlier this month resigned his $48,500-a-year post because, he said, the Board of Education was encroaching upon his administrative duties. The board, which has two Negro members, rejected his resignation and Willis later accepted the board's proposal to reconsider.

Willis reported that 224,770 pupils in the city's 550 schools were absent from classes because of the boycott or other reasons. The total enrollment is 469,733.

The daily average absenteeism was reported as 73,918. School officials said that an undetermined number of pupils had been threatened with harm if they attended classes.

In the News Business You Do Meet Many Interesting People and Strange Ones

By CHARLES T. BURNS

BOSTON (AP)—When you're in the news business, a lot of people on learning how you make a living exclaim something like: "Boy, you get to meet a lot of interesting people, don't you?"

Well, let's see.

There was the time in Newark, N.J. It was our custom to eat in a certain downtown restaurant. One night, a friend pointed across the room and said "there's Dutch Schultz." It could just as well have been some German braumeister to us, but that name came up recently during the testimony of gangland informant Joseph Valachi.

Within a couple of weeks Schultz, or more accurately, Schultze, was forced to leave a lot of lead, right in that restaurant.

Seems you do run into all kinds, at that.

Again, maybe this is an oddment worth recalling. In 1933, when former President Calvin Coolidge died, it was the custom and probably still is, to sound minute guns all day at military installations around the world on the presidential funeral.

sail honor pupil transfer plan, set up by the board as a compromise to demands of Negro leaders for an open transfer policy to alleviate overcrowding of predominantly Negro schools.

al day. And, at formal retreat, to let go with a volley of 48 rounds—it must be 50 now since it is meant to signify the sorrow of all the states. Anyhow, at Schofield Barracks in the now-state of Hawaii, the volley went off at retreat per regulations.

And, with the sound of the last shot, the rope holding the flag broke and the national banner fluttered to the ground. Any significance comes from the fact that Schofield Barracks was the last place under the American flag to perform the ritual that day.

Then there was the woman who took a rather morbid view of old age. Upon her 111th birthday, a reporter asked the usual question about how she had lived so long.

"I'm the woman God forgot," was the devastating reply.

There are times in a newsman's career when he's out of work. And before public relations came to be a big thing, the only way to get a job was to travel around to the newspapers. During one such hiatus, there was an eyebrow lifting incident in a scrubby little restaurant in Nevada.

The man who had given the out-of-work journalist a lift in a ranch truck through the mountains insisted on buying lunch for his traveling guest, himself, and his son.

The driver had repeatedly

Folk Festival to Start at Eureka Spgs.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Ozark Folk Festival, which gets underway for the 16th year in a row at Eureka Springs this week, is planned to be one of the most realistic in its history.

The festival is being produced by Jimmy Driftwood, nationally known folk music expert from Timbo, who, with the help of his "Rackensack Neighbors" had a rousing success with their Arkansas Folk Festival at Mountain View last April.

The sponsors of the Ozark Festival are calling it the "happiest, holleriest hootenanny of them all," but Driftwood refrains from calling a folk festival a hootenanny.

"We call our singings 'Musicals,' the way our fathers did," Driftwood says. "We learned a hootenanny was a goblin cross between an owl and a goat."

The motto of the Driftwood group is: "Steer away from professionalism and hold fast to reality."

The festival "will reflect as near as possible the folk music of the day of our grandfathers," he said.

Driftwood will stage folk performances with his group on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

In addition to the folk music, the festival will include a "barefoot ball," Indian dances, shooting matches and arts and crafts displays.

The festival will start Wednesday night with the "barefoot ball," featuring Swede Ulrich, a retired Army sergeant who is the official "splinter puller."

His services may be needed since dancers are not allowed to wear shoes.

Indian dances will be held twice daily and shooting matches for guns and bows will be held throughout the festival at six ranges.

Mountain arts and crafts will be displayed on a roped off street. The Arkansas Artmobile from the Arkansas Art Center in Little Rock will be at the festival for all three days.

The show will be tape recorded by the Voice of America for broadcast to iron curtain countries and the National Broadcasting Co. is to decide today, whether to film the festival for television.

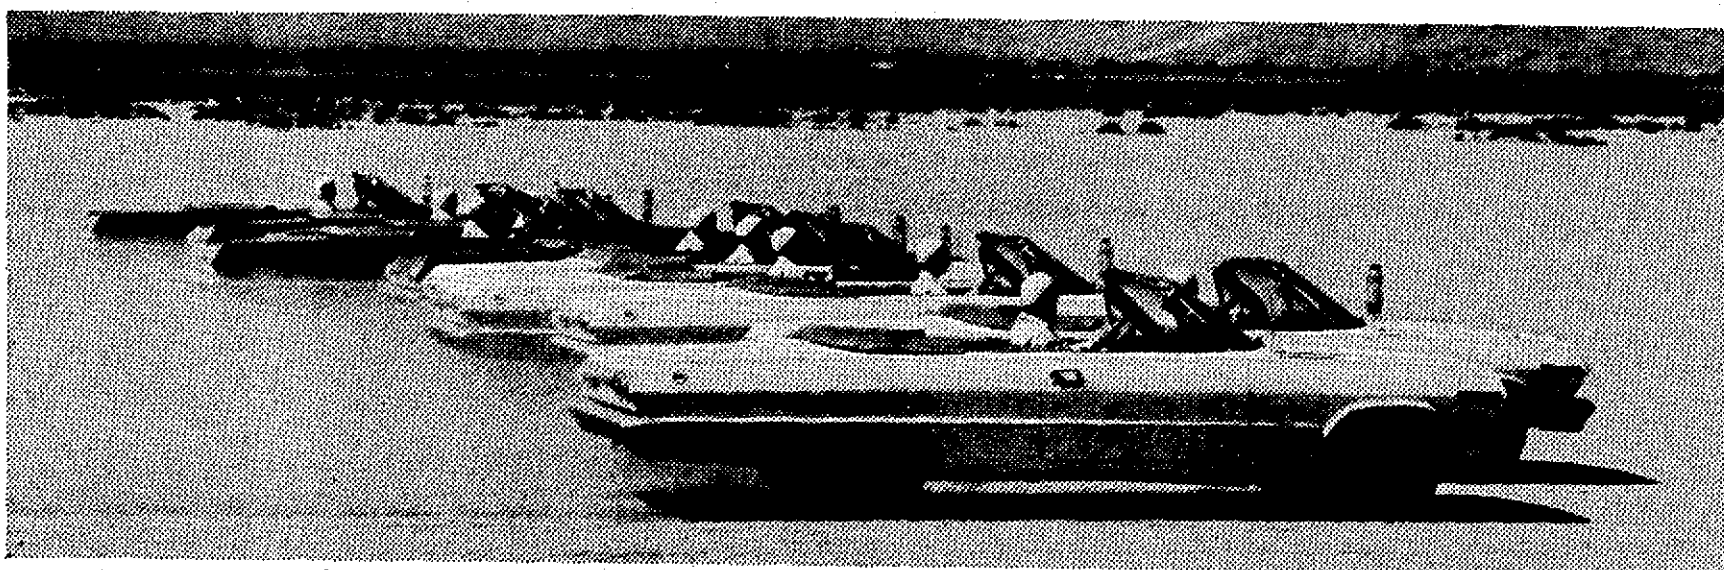

Low Oberste of the State Publicity and Parks Commission said the film would be used in a show about the affects of small-town culture movements on urban areas.

NBC will also film the Arts and Crafts Fair at War Eagle in Benton County this week, Oberste said.

Oberste said Gov. Orval E. Faubus has wired NBC urging the network to go through with its plans to film the festival.

Petition Dismissed

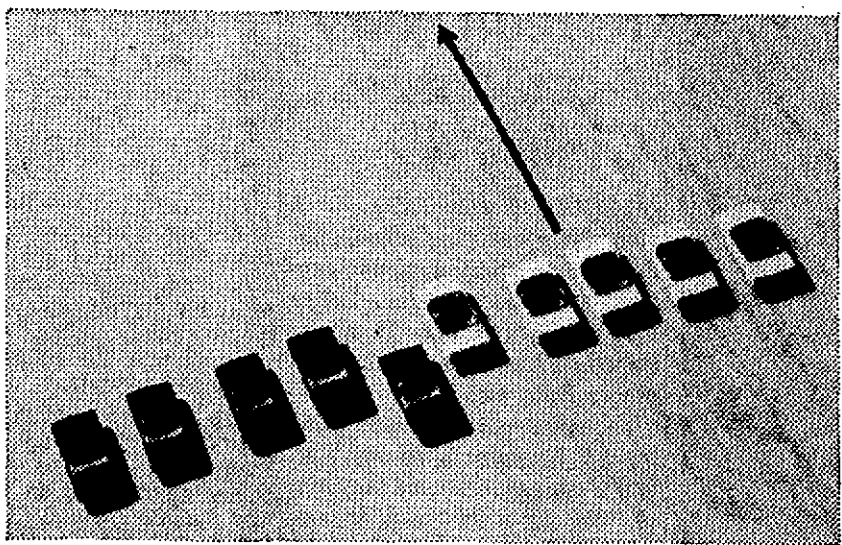

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A petition by the Freeman Telephone Answering Service to force Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to reconnect a straight line between Little Rock and Hot Springs was dismissed Tuesday by the Public Service Commission.

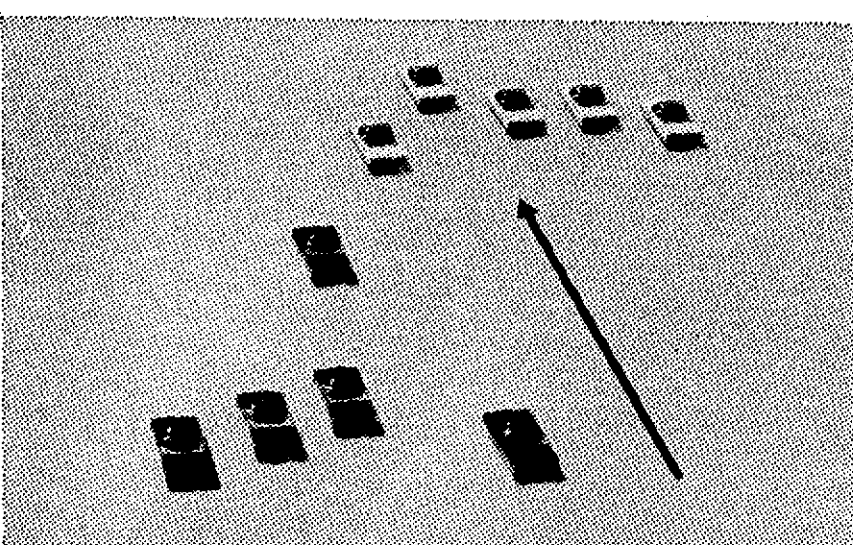

THIS IS NOT A RACE, but a test of fuels. A mileage test, using ten brand-new cars. Location: California's Mojave Desert. All ten cars got exactly the same amount of fuel. Each dark car got a blend just like Super Shell, but without Platformate, Super Shell's mileage-boosting ingredient. Each white car got Super Shell with Platformate. The drivers were skilled professionals. They started together, accelerated to 50 and held that speed in formation until they ran out of fuel. For results, read below.

Dramatic mileage test proves that one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients packs extra mileage into every gallon

1. Four miles after the start—one dark car without Super Shell's mileage booster falls back, out of fuel. Dark cars got gasoline blended just like Super Shell but without Platformate, Super Shell's mileage-boosting ingredient. White cars got Super Shell with Platformate. All cars got exactly the same amount of fuel. Above, first dark car runs out of fuel.

2. Seconds later, all five dark cars without Super Shell's mileage booster fall back, out of fuel. All five white cars, running on Super Shell with Platformate, are still going strong, getting extra mileage—from the same Super Shell gasoline you can get at Shell stations. Reason? Platformate can release more energy per gallon than the finest 100 octane gasoline.

3. White cars on Super Shell pull even further ahead, getting even more mileage—thanks to Super Shell's extra-mileage ingredient, Platformate. Platformate is one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients to make your car work better. Fill up at the clean white Super Shell pump for good mileage!

What the rest of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients do to help your car work better

Besides Platformate, Super Shell also contains the famous ingredient TCP®—that works for power when you need it and a smooth-running engine; two ingredients that fight knock; a quick-start ingredient; an ingredient for fast warm-ups; an ingredient to give you smooth power; a gum preventive; and an anti-icer. Fill up with Super Shell!

Burton Is Also a Very Fine Actor

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
PUERTO VILLARTA, Mexico (AP)—A fact sometimes overlooked is that Richard Burton is also an actor.
His performance as a headline-maker has somewhat overshadowed his acting talent. The American public may be more conscious of this talent late this winter when he brings his "Hamlet" to New York.
He is undertaking once more the role he played longer than any other actor at the Old Vic, winning him praise from Winston Churchill. He explained his reasons as he waited in a local cafe to be called for scenes of "The Night of the Iguana."
"Next year is 1964, the 400th anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare," he said. "While there is a great deal of celebration in England, there seems to be little in the United States. I felt something should be done about it."
"Also, I recently did a film in England, 'Beckett,' with John Gielgud. He asked me one day why I didn't do Hamlet once more before I got too old. I said I had definite ideas of how I would like to do it this time, and he asked me what they were. They happened to be

Claims He Found Women Dead

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Robert Van Hooser, 28, of Texarkana, charged with first degree murder, told a Pulaski Circuit Court jury Tuesday that Mrs. Dora Faye Tinnin, whom he is accused of shooting, was dead when he arrived at her apartment.
He is charged in Mrs. Tinnin's death at her Little Rock apartment last December. The defense was to continue its case today.
William N. Fitzhugh, 24, a Little Rock pharmacy student and the state's main witness, testified Tuesday that he was at the apartment when Mrs. Tinnin, 28, was slain.
He said he saw Van Hooser shoot Mrs. Tinnin, estranged from her husband, after she told Van Hooser she did not love him "as much as I used to."
Van Hooser said shortly after he arrived at Mrs. Tinnin's apartment police came and handcuffed him.
Fitzhugh, who was wounded in the leg, said Van Hooser shot Mrs. Tinnin and him and then left.

some of the same ideas he had, so I agreed to do it if he would direct."

Burton, who last did "Hamlet" in 1954, hasn't appeared on the London stage for six years. "The New York theater is more exciting," he said, "and the critics are fair, whereas in London they are merely snide."
Burton has come a long way from Pontrhydyfen, Wales, where he was born 39 years ago Nov. 10. In some respects his habits are little changed from what they might have been if he had stayed in the mining town.

He is a prodigious drinker. This is his first trip to Mexico, and he has discovered tequila. "The other night I totaled 21 before I stopped counting," he said. It was out at the beach and Elizabeth (Taylor) and the others on the beach were covered with bites the next day. I had none. I think I discovered something."

OIL ON TROUBLED WATERS

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My mother-in-law (who died recently) had many children all of whom formed a happy group because she held them together until death. Now they are fighting over what to do with my 33-year-old father-in-law.
After his wife's passing he sold the family property thus putting the responsibility of caring for him upon his six girls and three boys. He refuses to go into an old folks' home yet has not sufficient funds to pay rent and employ an attendant or a companion, which, of course, would be the ideal solution.

What are the moral and legal requirements of the children and their spouses in such a situation? I realize that not all of the details have been given but a statement from you on the general problem of what to do with old folks—besides put them on the shelf—may help us maintain peace or, as the saying goes, pour oil on troubled waters. —A Son-in-Law Who Cares

Dear Son-in-Law: Since medical science has already increased average life expectancy beyond 70, the housing problem for our "senior citizens" is a common one. Unless declared non compos by the courts, they usually have strong minds of their own and are not going to be "put" anywhere.
"With homes, apartment buildings, and entire cities (i.e. Sun City, Ariz.) specially designed for older people, springing up from coast to coast, a vital and precious quality of American life is vanishing. Segregation of the generations does not have enough advantages to outweigh its disadvantages. My friend, Lin Yutang, the Chinese philosopher, comparing the Chinese philosophy of growing old to the American philosophy, wrote, "If one cannot tolerate one's own parents when they are old and comparatively helpless, parents who have done so much for us, whom else can one tolerate in the home? One has to learn self-restraint anyway, or even marriage will go on the rocks."
According to the United States Census Bureau three out of four people past 65 live in "family units." So Americans aren't quite as callous toward their parents as Lin Yutang infers. In your particular case, your wife's family has two alternatives; either share the expense of maintaining an apartment and practical nurse for their father or take turns in having him as a "house guest."

Being sufficiently concerned to write me, you are probably the one to see that the "children" come to a decision. Your father-in-law could profit by my leaflet, "Ten Rules That Will Help Oldsters Stay Young." A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring it to you.

Dear Helen: A friend loaned me some of your columns where on earth do you get all the wisdom and knowledge to answer those teasers of questions? They would frighten me into running away where no one could find me. Lots of luck. —E. S.
Dear E.S.: Thanks for your compliment. There's a vast difference between wisdom and knowledge. After living a number of years one is bound to get some of the latter hammered in by experience. My life has never been easy but then whose has? My own and others' troubles (a reporter sees plenty of them), gave me compassion and understanding for that, I'm grateful.

Have you a problem Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Star, N. Y. News Get Eastman Nod

EDITOR'S NOTE: THE following news story was given the Associated Press and the Arkansas Democrat this morning for publication simultaneously with Hope Star this afternoon (Wednesday).

HOPE — Front pages of the Hope Star and the New York Daily News will appear together in a photographic slide being prepared for a lecture on dark-room technique by Eastman Kodak Co.

J. Winton Lemen, manager of Eastman's Photo Press Sales Division, Rochester, N.Y., commenting on a recent national survey Eastman conducted on newspaper darkroom procedures, wrote Alex H. Washburn, editor and publisher of the Hope newspaper:

"May I have a copy of one of your editions? I would like to use it in a slide along with the New York Daily News. This slide will be used in a lecture reporting on the photo lab technician survey. Your paper had the smallest circulation of any of those replying and, of course, the Daily News, the largest. You may be interested in knowing that we had an excellent response to this survey, having a return of 33%."

Today's Star, which Washburn said is being forwarded to Rochester for slide reproduction, features a five-column local picture "plugging" the Arkansas poultry industry.

It shows a flock of 8,000 Hy-Line layers being contract-fed for Southland Farms, Inc., on the farm of Watson Ward and his son Dale, Prescott Route Three, five miles north of Prescott on State Highway 24. The Wards are feeding 32,000 pullets. Southland furnishes chicks and feed, picks up the birds at the end of 18 weeks, pays the Wards their contract fee, and then places the chickens with egg-production farmers.

Forest Week Observed by Kiwanians

Four speakers appeared before Hope Kiwanis club yesterday in a salute to National Forest Products Week, October 20-26.

The event here is sponsored by Hope Chamber of Commerce and appearing before the civic club were Haskell Jones, president of the C of C; Bill Gunter, Jack Lowe and Thurston Hulsey.

Each speaker discussed various phases of the wood-working and forest products industries, and pointed to the benefits in Hempstead county and also the state of Arkansas.

It was pointed out that $1.0 of all land in Hempstead county is now in forest and woodland, which furnishes much of the raw materials to nine wood-working industries located in Hope.

Mr. Gunter pointed out that sale to timber plus salaries to about 500 employees of the nine wood-working industries in Hempstead county would amount to around four million dollars annually.

Mr. Lowe declared that lumber was here to stay, and stressed the beauty, strength, durability and versatility of the finished product.

Mr. Hulsey, superintendent of Washington schools and a timber grower, stressed the better methods of growing Pine timber which would yield $15 per acre, but point out there were 110 species of timber that could be found in Arkansas forests.

Mr. Jones stressed the importance of the lumber and timber industry to the economy of Hope and Arkansas, and announced a bus tour of the industries in this city.

The program was arranged by Ben Owen.

reductions in its heavy overseas expenditures."

Later it was learned the State Department had not agreed with that part of Gilpatrick's speech but that its objections were overruled by the White House. State Department officials insisted there is no immediate plan for troop reductions.

Rusk's expected statement will be a reply to a German request for clarification of Gilpatrick's remarks.

The announced purpose of Rusk's trip is to attend a meeting of American ambassadors stationed in Europe and to be on hand Sunday in Frankfurt for the dedication of a memorial fountain to George C. Marshall, the late secretary of state who charted the Marshall Plan for postwar European recovery.

Beebe Plant Cited in U. S. Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The International Ladies Garment Workers Union Local 596 filed suit in U.S. District Court Tuesday, alleging that Beebe Industries, Inc., of Beebe, failed to bargain after entering into a contract with the union.

The court was asked to order the firm, which manufactures wearing apparel, to abide by the contract which it said was signed Dec. 28, 1962, to extend through Dec. 31, 1965.

Forecasters said it was impossible to predict Ginny's course more than 12 hours ahead.

Gale warnings were displayed from Jacksonville to Palm Beach this morning.

Tides from one to three feet above normal were expected along much of the coast from Florida to the Middle Atlantic States.

Forecasters said tides five feet higher than normal were possible along the middle east coast of Florida tonight.

After dawdling for three days off the Eastern Seaboard as far north as Cape Hatteras, Ginny started on a beeline Tuesday aimed at the lower Florida Coast.

The Red Cross deployed 85 of its disaster workers in cities from Jacksonville to Miami.

Florida residents, many of them with thumbs still sore from boarding up during the hurricane Flora threat, were caught by surprise. Hurricanes generally form far to the south and move to the north or northeast.

Small craft from New Jersey to the upper Florida Keys were warned to stay in port.

There was some erosion along the North Carolina coast but Ginny brought needed rain to the parched eastern half of the state.

As the storm moved southward, it became more tropical and the Weather Bureau warned residents of the Florida east coast from Daytona Beach southward to keep in close touch with advisories.

Winds were expected to increase in the Abacos and around Grand Bahama in the Bahamas Islands and interests in that area were told to be ready to take quick precautions if necessary.

The Coast Guard reported that the powerless Navy destroyer escort Fogg, adrift since Saturday, was taken in tow by the cutter Chilula off the North Carolina coast. The cutter Casco was escorting the Chilula and the Fogg.

The Fogg, with 10 men aboard was being towed from Norfolk to Mayport, Fla., to join the reserve fleet.

Grain Deals

accepted by the Communist countries.

Since then they have objected, citing higher costs of American shipping—about 20 to 30 cents a bushel higher than foreign shipping.

This matter figures to be part of the table talk when the Soviet trade negotiators lunch with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

The Russian group is headed by Sergi A. Borisov, first deputy minister of foreign trade, who negotiated the Soviet purchase of Canadian wheat in September.

The shipping requirement, however, does not hinder sales of corn and other grains. Last Friday the Commerce Department exempted grains other than wheat from the requirement.

The Washington Post today quoted a grain firm as saying in New York that it expected the Commerce Department to take prompt action today on an export license to make the first shipment to Hungary. The commitment is expected to eventually total 100,000 tons of corn, the firm said.

Government and commercial sources appeared confident that the freight cost situation would not be allowed to interfere with wheat sales to the Reds. This was expressed at a news conference Tuesday by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and in private by Agriculture Department officials.

who marched around the City Hall-County Building and at the downtown offices of the Board of Education.

The marchers, both white and Negro, chanted, sang and displayed signs. There were no incidents. Rush hour traffic in the Loop was jammed.

Willis earlier this month resigned his $48,500-a-year post because, he said, the Board of Education was encroaching upon his administrative duties. The board, which has two Negro members, rejected his resignation and Willis later accepted the board's proposal to reconsider.

Willis reported that 224,770 pupils in the city's 550 schools were absent from classes because of the boycott or other reasons. The total enrollment is 469,733.

The daily average absenteeism was reported as 73,913. School officials said that an undetermined number of pupils had been threatened with harm if they attended classes.

The board-superintendent conflict centered upon a controver-

In the News Business You Do Meet Many Interesting People and Strange Ones

By CHARLES T. BURNS

BOSTON (AP)—When you're in the news business, a lot of people on learning how you make a living exclaim something like: "Boy, you get to meet a lot of interesting people, don't you?"

Well, let's see.

There was the time in Newark, N.J. It was our custom to eat in a certain downtown restaurant. One night, a friend pointed across the room and said "there's Dutch Schultz." I could just as well have been some German braumeister to us, but that name came up recently during the testimony of gangland informant Joseph Valachi.

Within a couple of weeks Schultz, or more accurately, Arthur Flegenheimer, was forced a lot of lead, right in that restaurant.

Seems you do run into all kinds, at that.

Again, maybe this is an oddment worth recalling. In 1923, when former President Calvin Coolidge died, it was the custom and probably still is, to sound minute guns all day at military installations around the world on the presidential funeral.

set up by the board as a compromise to demands of Negro leaders for an open transfer policy to alleviate overcrowding of predominantly Negro schools.

And, at formal retreat, to let go with a volley of 48 rounds, it must be 50 now since it is meant to signify the sorrow of all the states. Anyhow, at Schofield Barracks in the now-state of Hawaii, the volley went off at retreat per regulations.

And, with the sound of the last shot, the rope holding the flag broke and the national banner fluttered to the ground. Any significance comes from the fact that Schofield Barracks was the last place under the American flag to perform the ritual that day.

Then there was the woman who took a rather morbid view of old age. Upon her 111th birthday, a reporter asked the usual question about how she had lived so long.

"I'm the woman God forgot," was the devastating reply.

There are times in a newsman's career when he's out of work. And before public relations came to be a big thing, the only way to get a job was to travel around to the newspapers. During one such hiatus, there was an eyebrow lifting incident in a scrubby little restaurant in Nevada.

The man who had given the out-of-work journalist a lift in a ranch truck through the mountains insisted on buying lunch for his traveling guest, himself, and his son.

The driver had repeatedly

Caribbean President Walter L. Rice said at Richmond, Va., that the J. Louis was unarmed and carried only its normal crew.

The State Department placed the time of attack at 12:40 a.m. Fighter planes from Key West, Fla., sped to the scene, but when they arrived all hostile activity had ceased.

Then the philosophical, but chance-taking benefactor, threw a nickel into the slot machine. Out came the jackpot — total $3.15. Three times the lunch expense, to the penny.

Folk Festival to Start at Eureka Spgs.

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Ozark Folk Festival, which gets underway for the 16th year in a row at Eureka Springs this week, is planned to be one of the most realistic in its history.

The festival is being produced by Jimmy Driftwood, nationally known folk music expert from Timbo, who, with the help of his "Rackensack Neighbors" had a rousing success with their Arkansas Folk Festival at Mountain View last April.

The sponsors of the Ozark Festival are calling it the "happiest, holleriest hootenanny of them all," but Driftwood refrains from calling a folk festival a hootenanny.

"We call our singings 'Musicals,' the way our fathers did," Driftwood says. "We learned a hootenanny was a goblin cross between an owl and a goat."

The motto of the Driftwood group is: "Steer away from professionalism and hold fast to reality."

The festival "will reflect as near as possible the folk music of the day of our grandfathers," he said.

Driftwood will stage folk performances with his group on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

In addition to the folk music, the festival will include a "barefoot ball," Indian dances, shooting matches and arts and crafts displays.

The festival will start Wednesday night with the "barefoot ball," featuring Swede Ulrich, a retired Army sergeant who is the official "splinter puller."

His services may be needed since dancers are not allowed to wear shoes.

Indian dances will be held twice daily and shooting matches for guns and bows will be held throughout the festival at six ranges.

Mountain arts and crafts will be displayed on a roped off street. The Arkansas Artmobile from the Arkansas Art Center in Little Rock will be at the festival for all three days.

The show will be tape recorded by the Voice of America for broadcast to iron curtain countries and the National Broadcasting Co. is to decide today whether to film the festival for television.

Low Oberste of the State Publicity and Parks Commission said the film would be used in a show about the affects of small-town culture movements on urban areas.

NBC will also film the Arts and Crafts Fair at War Eagle in Benton County this week, Oberste said.

Oberste said Gov. Orval E. Faubus has wired NBC urging the network to go through with its plans to film the festival.

Petition Dismissed

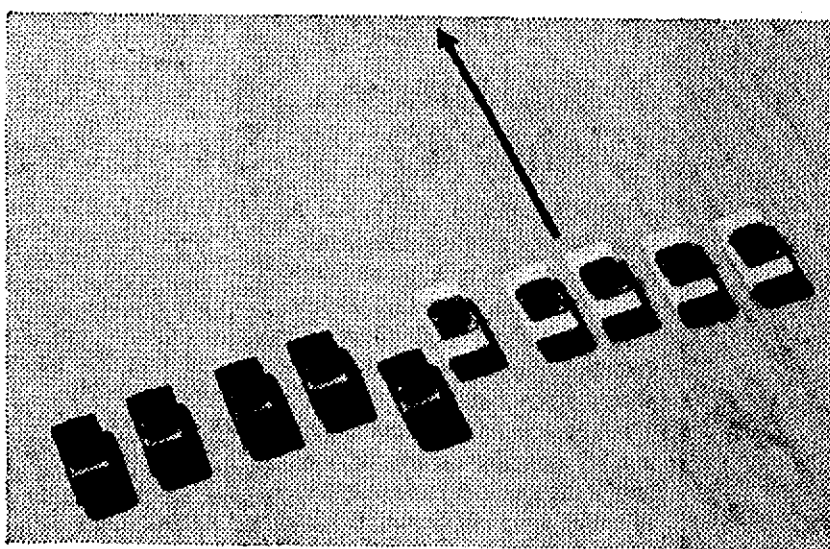

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A petition by the Freeman Telephone Answering Service to force Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to reconnect a straight line between Little Rock and Hot Springs was dismissed Tuesday by the Public Service Commission.

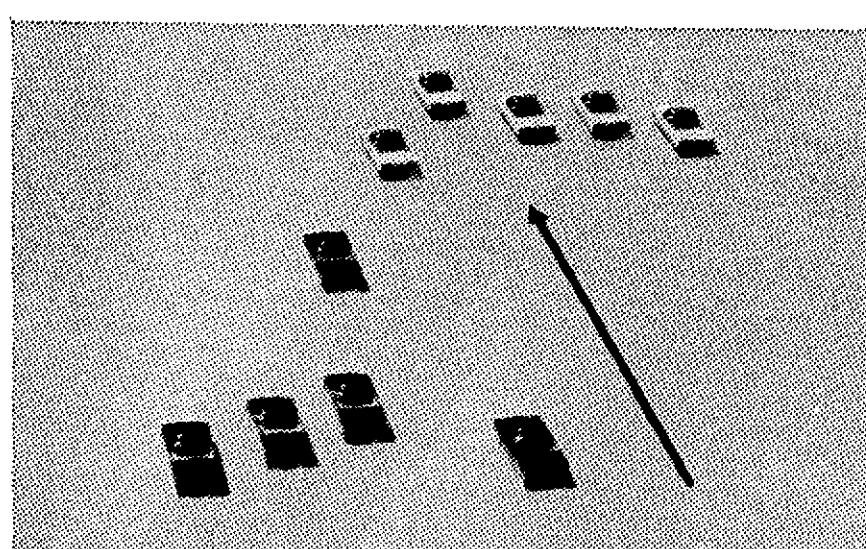

THIS IS NOT A RACE, but a test of fuels. A mileage test, using ten brand-new cars. Location: California's Mojave Desert. All ten cars got exactly the same amount of fuel. Each dark car got a blend just like Super Shell, but without Platformate, Super Shell's mileage-boosting ingredient. Each white car got Super Shell with Platformate. The drivers were skilled professionals. They started together, accelerated to 50 and held that speed in formation until they ran out of fuel. For results, read below.

Dramatic mileage test proves that one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients packs extra mileage into every gallon

1. Four miles after the start—one dark car without Super Shell's mileage booster falls back, out of fuel. Dark cars got gasoline blended just like Super Shell but without Platformate, Super Shell's mileage-boosting ingredient. White cars got Super Shell with Platformate. All cars got exactly the same amount of fuel. Above, first dark car runs out of fuel.

2. Seconds later, all five dark cars without Super Shell's mileage booster fall back, out of fuel. All five white cars, running on Super Shell with Platformate, are still going strong, getting extra mileage—from the same Super Shell gasoline you can get at Shell stations. Reason? Platformate can release more energy per gallon than the finest 100 octane gasoline.

3. White cars on Super Shell pull even further ahead, getting even more mileage—thanks to Super Shell's extra-mileage ingredient, Platformate. Platformate is one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients to make your car work better. Fill up at the clean white Super Shell pump for good mileage!

What the rest of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients do to help your car work better

Besides Platformate, Super Shell also contains the famous ingredient TCP*—that works for power when you need it and a smooth-running engine; two ingredients that fight knock; a quick-start ingredient; an ingredient for fast warm-ups; an ingredient to give you smooth power; a gum preventive; and an anti-icer. Fill up with Super Shell!

*Trademark for Shell's gasoline additive for ignition control. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889213.

OIL ON TROUBLED WATERS

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My mother-in-law (who died recently) had many children all of whom formed a happy group because she held them together until death. Now they are fighting over what to do with my 83-year-old father-in-law.

After his wife's passing he sold the family property thus putting the responsibility of caring for him upon his six girls and three boys. He refuses to go into an old folks' home yet has not sufficient funds to pay rent and employ an attendant or a companion, which, of course, would be the ideal solution.

What are the moral and legal requirements of the children and their spouses in such a situation? I realize that not all of the details have been given but a statement from you on the general problem of what to do with old folks—besides put them on the shelf—may help us maintain peace or, as the saying goes, pour oil on troubled waters. —A Son-in-Law Who Cares

Dear Son-in-Law: Since medical science has already increased average life expectancy beyond 70, the housing problem for our "senior citizens" is a common one. Unless declared non compos by the courts, they usually have strong minds of their own and are not going to be "put" anywhere.
"With homes, apartment buildings, and entire cities (i.e. Sun City, Ariz.) specially designed for older people, springing up from coast to coast, a vital and precious quality of American life is vanishing. Segregation of the generations does not have enough advantages to outweigh its disadvantages. My friend, Lin Yutang, the Chinese philosopher, comparing the Chinese philosophy of growing old to the American philosophy, wrote, "If one cannot tolerate one's own parents when they are old and comparatively helpless, parents who have done so much for us, whom else can one tolerate in the home? One has to learn self-restraint anyway, or veen marriage will go on the rocks."

According to the United States Census Bureau three out of four people past 65 live in "family units." So Americans aren't quite as callous toward their parents as Lin Yutang infers. In your particular case, your wife's family has two alternatives; either share the expense of maintaining an apartment and practical nurse for their father or take turns in having him as a "house guest."

Being sufficiently concerned to write me, you are probably the one to see that the "children" come to a decision. Your father-in-law could profit by my leaflet, "Ten Rules That Will Help Oldsters Stay Young." A stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring it to you.

Dear Helen: A friend loaned me some of your columns Where on earth do you get all the wisdom and knowledge to answer those teasers of questions? They would frighten me into running away where no one could find me. Lots of luck. —E. S.
Dear E.S.: Thanks for your

Burton Is Also a Very Fine Actor

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
PUERTO VILLARTA, Mexico (AP)—A fact sometimes overlooked is that Richard Burton is also an actor.

His performance as a head-line-maker has somewhat overshadowed his acting talent. The American public may be more conscious of this talent late this winter when he brings his "Hamlet" to New York.

He is undertaking once more the role he played longer than any other actor at the Old Vic, winning him praise from Winston Churchill. He explained his reasons as he waited in a local cafe to be called for scenes of "The Night of the Iguana."

"Next year is 1964, the 400th anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare," he said. "While there is a great deal of celebration in England, there seems to be little in the United States. I felt something should be done about it."

"Also, I recently did a film in England, 'Beckett,' with John Gielgud. He asked me one day why I didn't do Hamlet once more before I got too old. I said I had definite ideas of how I would like to do it this time, and he asked me what they were. They happened to be compliment. There's a vast difference between wisdom and knowledge. After living a number of years one is bound to get some of the latter hammered in by experience. My life has never been easy but then whose has? My own and others' troubles (a reporter sees plenty of them), gave me compassion and understanding for that, I'm grateful.

Have you a problem Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Claims He Found Woman Dead

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Robert Van Hooser, 28, of Texarkana, charged with first degree murder, told a Pulaski Circuit Court jury Tuesday that Mrs. Dora Faye Tinnin, whom he is accused of shooting, was dead when he arrived at her apartment.

He is charged in Mrs. Tinnin's death at her Little Rock apartment last December. The defense was to continue its case today.

William N. Fitzhugh, 24, a Little Rock pharmacy student and the state's main witness, testified Tuesday that he was at the apartment when Mrs. Tinnin, 28, was slain.

He said he saw Van Hooser shoot Mrs. Tinnin, estranged from her husband, after she told Van Hooser she did not love him "as much as I used to."

Van Hooser said shortly after he arrived at Mrs. Tinnin's apartment police came and handcuffed him.
Fitzhugh, who was wounded in the leg, said Van Hooser shot Mrs. Tinnin and him and then left.

some of the same ideas he had, so I agreed to do it if he would direct."

Burton, who last did "Hamlet" in 1954, hasn't appeared on the London stage for six years. "The New York theater is more exciting," he said, "and the critics are fair, whereas in London they are merely snide." Burton has come a long way from Porthlydyfen, Wales, where he was born 39 years ago Nov. 10. In some respects his habits are little changed from what they might have been if he had stayed in the mining town.

He is a prodigious drinker. This is his first trip to Mexico, and he has discovered tequila. "The other night I totaled 21 before I stopped counting," he said. It was out at the beach and Elizabeth (Taylor) and the others on the beach were covered with bites the next day. I had none. I think I discovered something."

Jimmy Foxx Has a Heart Attack
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jimmy Foxx, 56, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, was stricken with a heart ailment Tuesday. A spokesman at Faith hospital in St. Louis said today his condition was satisfactory.
Foxx, who compiled a lifetime batting average of .325 over a 20-year span in the major leagues, suffered a mild heart attack in September of 1959.
The former slugger came to St. Louis Sunday to attend testimonial dinner for Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinal star who retired at the end of the past season.

Plans Mental Health Hospital
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Baptist Hospital will build a $1.5 million mental health hospital near its present structure in Little Rock if it can gain Arkansas Baptist Convention approval.
It would be the state's first private mental health unit. It would be located across the street from the present hospital.
Ray Wilson, president of the Baptist Hospital Board, said present psychiatric facilities at the hospital were overcrowded and many patients have been placed on a waiting list. He said now patients must be sent out of state for rehabilitation and long-term therapy.
Hospital Administrator John Gilbreath said the two-story mental health unit is the result of two years of study and planning. The unit will have space for 75 patients and a small unit of 12 beds for disturbed patients.

Cats Dominate Statistics in the District

It was a ding-dong battle but the Hope Bobcats scored with two minutes and fifteen seconds of play remaining to edge the Fairview Cardinals 19-15 last Friday night and take a big step toward the Div. 4AA football crown.

The Cardinals, defending champions, turned in an outstanding game performance before weakling in the face of the big, bruising Bobcat line.

The victory puts Hope at the 4-0 mark with only two loop games remaining. This week the Bobcats play host to the Magnolia Panthers. Magnolia, with one loop loss, are still in contention for league honors with a 2-1 mark.

In other results last week Crossett won their first conference game with a 19-7 mark over the Camden Panthers, who are winless in league play; Smackover defeated Arkadelphia 25-13 in non-conference action as did Magnolia by winning 13-0 over Haynesville, La., and Malvern defeating Conway of 3AA on a 6-0 count.

The Magnolia at Hope contest is the only 4AA play this week. Fairview plays host to Bearden; Camden travels to Pine Bluff; Crossett goes to Bastrop, La. Malvern plays at Arkadelphia; and Smackover is host to Big 9 Hot Springs.

Ted Roberts, Smackover, continues to lead the district's individual scorers with 42 points. Mac McLarty of Hope has moved into the No. 2 spot with 36 points and Tommy Carroll of Magnolia is third with 34 points.

In Team statistics Hope lead in Net Yards Rushing with 1,438 yds., followed by Smackover 1,203; and Malvern 1,045. In Defense against Rushing Magnolia leads followed by Fairview and Hope. In total point scored Hope leads with 162 points well ahead of Smackover with 85 and Magnolia with 82. Crossett is the leading passing team with 395 yds., followed by Hope 369 yds., and Fairview 324. Defense against passes is led by Fairview with a yield of 225 yds., followed by Magnolia 235 yds., and Camden 269 yds.

The Standings: (League games only)

Team	W	L
Hope Bobcats	4	0
Smackover Bucks	2	1

Plum's Stock at Bottom in Detroit

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Mill Plum's stock has hit bottom in Detroit where reports say he may be trade bait during the off season. The former Cleveland quarterback has completed only one-third of his passes and leads the league with 12 interceptions.

Earl Morrill, the old relief man, has moved out of the bullpen to the No. 1 starting job. Although Morrill's completion percentage isn't much better than Plum's, he has twice as much yardage. The players apparently have more confidence in Earl.

Ralph Guglielmi suddenly finds himself much in demand with quarterbacks at a premium in both the National Football League and the American Football League. Since refusing to report to San Francisco from the Giants, the former Notre Dame star has been doing some TV work in New York. He has changed his unlisted phone number but Vince Lombardi of Green Bay and Vince McNally of Philadelphia know

Deno's Son Returns to Arkansas

Northwest Arkansas Times
Written for Associated Press

By ALLAN GILBERT JR.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — You need to have been a Razorback fan 20 years ago for the name Deno Nichols to mean anything to you — and Porker partisans back then were largely basketball fanciers rather than football fans.

In the bleak fall of 1943 John Tomlin was football coach and the Hogs won two and lost seven.

In basketball, however, the Razorbacks under Dr. Eugene Lambert, won 16 and lost 8, with a Southwest Conference mark of 11-1. Arkansas tied Rice for the conference title and was scheduled to meet Ohio State in the NCAA tourney at Kansas City before one of the great tragedies in Arkansas athletic history.

Memories of that fine 1943-44 Arkansas basketball team, its fine season and its top star came back to the Ozarks this fall in the football jersey of freshman No. 43, a slender, quick young halfback from Palestine, Tex., named Deno Nichols, Jr.

Deno is a second string halfback. He has caught two passes for 58 yards and returned three punts for 35 yards. Track is probably his strong suit — he runs the century in 9.7 seconds. He is probably the fastest of all the Shoats.

Deno is married and the father of a girl. He was born in Arkansas but moved from the state in time to play his senior high football in Texas. He was good enough in track and football to be sought by UCLA, Houston, New Mexico, State and Texas.

So why did he come to Arkansas?

"Mostly because we have always considered Arkansas our home," he said. He adds that his dad sort of wanted him to come here, too.

Deno Sr. is now secretary of the YMCA at Perryton, Tex., where he moved this fall from Palestine. He has been in YMCA work for the past eight years, first at Warren, Ark., then at Palestine. Before that he was a radio announcer in Little Rock and Warren.

Deno Sr. was the bellwether of that 1943-44 Arkansas basketball team, rating all-SWC and sinking last second baskets against Baylor and Rice in the stretch drive that gained his team a tie for the title.

At the end of the regular season Deno went to Little Rock to play in an AAU tournament and landed a job as head coach at North Little Rock while there. Then he hurried back to prepare for the NCAA tournament.

Coach Lambert scheduled a practice game with the Fort Chaffee Tankers, a fine service club, on March 20, 1944, four days before the NCAA battle.

On the way back to the campus Sunday night the station wagon carrying Nichols and other Razorbacks had a flat tire about 20 miles south of Fayetteville on Highway 71. The players fixed the flat and were putting up the tools when a car topped a hill and slammed into them. Everett Norris, a physical education teacher, was killed. Ben Jones, a player, suffered two broken legs, and Nichols suffered a smashed leg that had to be amputated.

Arkansas' appearance in the NCAA tourney was called off.

Deno Nichols' picture hangs among the honored best in the Arkansas field house, and the memory of him is one of the fine ones in Arkansas sports history.

Figures Texas Will Avenge Tie With Rice

By HAROLD CAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chancellor Litchfield called a press conference last week and formally turned the unbeaten Pittsburgh football team back over to Coach John Michelosen.

It is just the Panthers' hard luck that this weekend they are the guests of Navy, where Coach Wayne Hardin has turned the offense over to Roger Staubach, the Middies' scrambling quarterback. He'll find a way of putting the first defeat on the Pitt record.

A week ago, there were 42 correct picks out of 50 decisions for an 840 average. That lifted the season's figures to 185-65 for 740.

Here are the other winners this weekend:

Texas over Rice: The Longhorns, still unbeaten after mastering two traditional rivals on successive weekends, get revenge for last year's 14-14 tie with the Owls.

Wisconsin over Ohio State: Harold Brandt's passing will remind the Buckeyes of last week's massacre by Southern California.

Illinois over UCLA: The Illini youngsters have played the more rugged schedule and have the better record. This is a Friday night affair.

Mississippi over Vanderbilt: Vanderbilt has scored only three touchdowns in five games.

Alabama over Houston: Joe Namath and Mike Fracchia will produce a lopsided Alabama triumph.

Oklahoma over Kansas State: Jim Grisham to romp through the tissue-thin Kansas State line.

Northwestern over Michigan State: The home field gives Tom Myers and his Northwestern mates a slight edge. They will need it.

Syracuse over Oregon State: The Coast team's Vern Burke likely will be the game's outstanding player but Syracuse has the better all-around equipment.

Southern California over California: The Trojans can taper off from their form of a week ago against Ohio State and still master the Bears by the margin of a field goal.

North Carolina State over Duke: State's powerful interior linemen should pull this one out for the benefit of the Raleigh crowd.

Florida over Louisiana State: Florida's walking wounded have recovered since spilling Alabama but LSU's Pat Screen is out of action.

Notre Dame over Stanford: The Irish get tougher each week. You can see for yourself on the television screen.

Missouri over Iowa State: The Tigers haven't been stopped since their opening game.

Tigers Feted at Barbecue, Breakfast

Although the football team of Yerger High School has not been in the winning column as much as they would like to they are showing much improvement. The Tigers are being encouraged and supported by the student body, faculty, and local business men.

Moore Brothers Grocery gave a complete breakfast to a Team and Coaches Friday, October 18, at 7:00 o'clock. Everything necessary for the breakfast was given by the local merchants.

Last week Vander Lloyd's Grocery gave the boys a Barbecue Chicken Supper. Several other business men have pledged their support to the Tigers. Among them are Carlee Bostic, who gave the boys a Chicken Dinner Wednesday October 16. Mr. Bostic is the proprietor of the Evening Shade on North Hazel Street.

Davis Cup Team Now in India

BOMBAY, India (AP) — The United States Davis Cup squad will begin workouts today for the Nov. 24 interzone tennis final against India.

The five-man squad which arrived Tuesday, is made up of Chuck McKinley, Gene Scott, Frank Froehling, Dennis Ralston and Marty Reissen.

Minor Snag in Proposed Lake Near

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The proposed construction of Lake Nearth near Osceola hit a minor snag Tuesday—apparent confusion about how much money a state agency was to pay toward the project.

The state Game and Fish Commission asked the state Publicity and Parks Commission to pay $50,000 toward the $225,000 project.

Bob Evans, director of the Publicity and Parks Commission, said the agency had promised to pay only $25,000.

T. M. Holder, assistant director of the wildlife agency, said he felt sure the parks department would pay the other $25,000 later.

The project was first discussed 10 years ago.

The G&F Commission proceeded with plans after $112,500 in federal money was earmarked for the lake. The wildlife agency and the park department were to share the rest of the cost.

Plans now are ready, and only a few minor details and the acquiring of easements stand in the way of awarding a construction contract.

The lake is to cover 438 acres of an old Mississippi River bed between the river and the levee. Two dams are to be constructed near the river north of Osceola, with a larger dam near Osceola.

Lake Nearth (for Northeast Arkansas) would be the fourth fishing lake constructed with accelerated public works money. The others are Overcup, Lake near Morrilton, Cox Creek Lake near Leola in Grant County and Burnt Cane Lake near Forrest City.

Defensive Headaches for Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Tulsa's passing attack, like Baylor's is causing defensive headaches for Arkansas' Razorbacks, Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday.

"We certainly are further along this week than the week before Baylor, but it still wasn't a good practice," Broyles said of Tuesday's workout in pads.

The Razorbacks meet Tulsa at Fayetteville Saturday in an afternoon game. Baylor beat Arkansas at Waco, Tex., two weeks ago.

Broyles said Tulsa's "3-box" defense also presents problems for Arkansas' offensive alignment.

Coaches Are Already Feeling Axe

NEW YORK (AP) — The football season is about half over and the effigy firm of Oldspeak, Helmet and Hemp is expecting business to improve. So far it has just been hanging.

Perhaps you're not familiar with OH&H unless you've seen their advertisement in a college campus or alumni publication. It reads something like this:

"Oldspeak, Helmet and Hemp. Lifelike effigies of coaches for sale or rent. We solve your knotty problems."

We asked OH&H President Mervyn Oldspeak how business has been this season.

"Well, so far we've just been hanging on. We did get a few calls from Columbia after Buff Donelli called for that two-point conversion against Princeton and the kid didn't make it, so they lose a game they shudda won."

"We have just one good prospect in the Ivy League now, John Stegman at Penn. I have my staff working on a pilot model of him. We did rent a Bob Ingalls model up in Connecticut and we're looking for some orders from Penn State for Rip Engle since they lost to Army and Syracuse."

Any other good prospects? Is business beginning to pick up?

"You gotta pick them up to get that neck in the noose. That's a joke, son."

"Tulane should give us some business after losing 16 straight and Wake Forest has lost 15, so we're stocking up on Tommy O'Boyle and Billy Hildebrand. And we just shipped a Ben Martin by plane to our Colorado branch in case the Air Force boys put in an order after the way they lost to Maryland in the last minute. But we had to put our Tom Nicks in storage."

I take it you don't care much for winning coaches.

"You'd be surprised. Take a guy like Darrell Royal. Only thing he's lost at Texas in two years was the Cotton Bowl. But if he should blow a conference game and another bowl shot, he'd probably want to hang him-

Youth Move Extends to Yank Office

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees' youth movement had extended to the front office today with the naming of Ralph Houk as general manager and the imminent announcement that Yogi Berra would succeed Houk as field leader.

Houk, 44, received his promotion Tuesday. The announcement of the 38-year-old Berra's appointment as the 17th manager in Yankee history is expected to be made at a news conference Thursday.

A Houk-Berra combination would form the youngest front office and field tandem in baseball.

All principals except Berra were present Tuesday at an elaborate news conference in a plush midtown hotel where Roy Hamey tearfully announced his retirement as general manager and club president Dan Topping named Houk as Hamey's successor.

Houk, who led the club to three pennants and two World Series championships in three years: at the helm, acknowledged his successor had been chosen but refused to reveal his identity.

Another Yankee official, however, informed The Associated Press that Berra was the man. Yogi, who served a year's apprenticeship as a coach last season, in his 17th year with the Yankees, could not be reached for comment.

Houk was given a four-year contract calling for an annual salary of $50,000. Berra, who has been earning from $40,000 to $50,000 a year as a player for the past eight or nine years, is expected to sign a two-year contract for around $45,000.

"I accepted the front office job because it presents a challenge to me," said Houk. "I just hope I can do the job for the next manager as well as Hamey has done for me."

Houk said he was first approached about the new job as far back as October 1962, during the World Series between the Yankees and San Francisco Giants.

The final decision was reached in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., during spring training in 1963.

The saddest man at the press conference was Hamey, who gave ill health as his reason for retirement.

"I had been thinking of retiring as far back as five years ago," he said. "I made up my mind definitely in July of 1962 after I got out of the hospital."

Hamey, 61, underwent a gall bladder operation that summer. He succeeded George Weiss as general manager in October 1960.

Odds Favor Nicklaus and Palmer

PARIS (AP) — It's America's Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus against the field Thursday when top golfers of 33 nations tee off over one of Louis XIV's old cow pastures in the 11th annual Canada Cup and International Trophy golf matches.

"I just don't see how anyone can beat Arnie and Jack on this course," said left-hander Bob Charles of New Zealand, the British Open champion. "There is no penalty for a wild shot. They can just stand up there and crank it."

Gary Player of South Africa agreed.

Thus the odds swung heavily in favor of Palmer, all-time leading money winner, and Nicklaus, at 23 winner of the U.S. Masters, Open and PGA crowns, in the annual international competition among hand-picked two-man teams from all parts of the world.

The four-day, 72-hole tournament opens at 9 a.m. Thursday over the 6,834-yard, par 72 Saint-Nom-la-Bretteche course, which only recently was carved out of grazing grounds and potato patches of Louis XIV's farm yards near Versailles.

Thrown together as partners for the first time but still keen rivals for world golf honors, Palmer and Nicklaus are aware of their rather unusual situation.

Fall Choked Off and Now Deer Hunting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Prolonged drought has choked off Arkansas' famous "flaming fall" scenic beauty, but visions of another type of flaming fall is choking off a cherished pastime of 100,000 Arkansans: The deer hunt.

Tuesday, the state Game and Fish Commission called a halt to hunting in 10 Northeast Arkansas counties because of the forest fire threat.

The threat was born with the dearth of rainfall, and an unusually warm Indian Summer.

The Maximum temperature in Arkansas Tuesday was 89, setting a new high temperature record for the 10th time this month.

The dry, warm weather turned Arkansas' wooded hillsides almost abruptly from green to brown, without the usual reds and golds in between. The state has had no significant rainfall in almost six weeks.

The commission's hunting ban hit Clay, Craighead, Crittenden, Cross, Greene, Lee, Mississippi, Phillips, Poinsett and St. Francis counties. They comprise the commission's District 1.

There remains the possibility that the first deer hunting season in the state, Nov. 11-13, will be closed if the drought does not end.

Deer hunting is considered a greater fire threat than other hunting because deer hunters make camos and remain for days on one hunting stand. Commissioners are to meet Nov. 4 to discuss the possibility of closing the deer season.

Only once has the state's deer season been ordered closed. That was in 1952, Arkansas' worst fall drought until this year.

But rain came, commissioners opened the season a day late—Nov. 12—and extended it through the following week, which had been set aside as the week of the hunt because of the postponement order. Commissioners explained that many hunters who reserve their vacations for deer hunting season had moved their vacation dates back a week, expecting the postponement.

Grade School Teams Plan a Benefit

Thursday at Hammons Stadium at 6:00 p.m., the Grade School Football League's top two teams will tangle in a curtain raiser for the Bobkittens homecoming tilt with North Heights.

This non-league contest will put the league leading and defending champion Blues with a record of 3-0-1, against the second place Reds with a 2-1-1 season slate. The game will give the public a chance to see the excellent job that the Senior Bobcats are doing in coaching these younger hopefuls.

Then Saturday night, at 7:00, at K-Park, two league games will be played in an effort to get a large crowd out in order to raise the balance of money needed to pay for equipment brought for this year's program. The local Lions Club contributed $110 to the Grade School program and an additional $100 is needed to finance the 1963 season.

Anyone coming to Saturday night's games will never consider what he dropped in the hat to be a donation, because these youngsters will certainly give you your money's worth. These teams being coached by High School Seniors and are able to practice, at the most, only twice weekly, and it's amazing how well the 4th, 5th, and 6th graders play football.

The Gold team will take on the Whites at 7:00, and the Blues and Reds will play at 8:10.

Last Saturday's score. Blue 21, Whites 6. Golds 7, Reds 0.

Card Coach Raps Green Bay Player

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Walby Lemm of the St. Louis Cardinals criticized fullback Jim Taylor of Green Bay Tuesday for what he called unnecessary kicking and crawling after a tackle.

"Taylor is always complaining to the officials because three or four men fall on him and hold him after he is brought down," Lemm said. "But you have to pin him down and hold him there because he kicks and picks up extra yardage by crawling."

Taylor was warned several times by the officials Sunday in the Packers' 30-7 victory over the Cardinals, but a penalty never was called. However, several roughing penalties were called against St. Louis.

points for the fourth consecutive game in a 103-97 victory over the San Francisco Warriors and Wilt Chamberlain. In the only other game scheduled, the Los Angeles Lakers whipped New York 130-117.
